Hope, faith, trust, sharing, harmony. All these are qualities that we seek in the world around us. Sometimes we don't find them and feel forsaken and alone.

How do we find succour, support and empathy in the Universe that seems to have forgotten us?

It is our contention that we ourselves can be the change we want to see and feel. By taking positive action, lending a helping hand, giving encouragement and working to uplift those that are suffering.

'If not you, who?'

'If not now, when?'

This is the theme for our multimedia presentation under the aegis of SYNC.

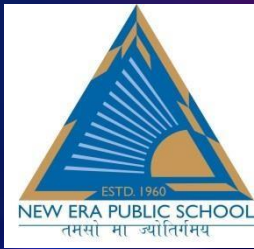

We encourage the young participants to think deeply about their role in making the world a gentler and kinder place for those around them. We want them to explore simple solutions for day to day problems that they see and encounter daily.
